Event Report:

We had acceptable wheather conditions.

From 19.00 o'clock local time we where watching the moon, until it set behind the surrounding buildings.

Then we went on with Jupiter until about 21.30.

There where more people stoping as I thought to be. The mostly heard expressions were like "Wow, amazing!" and "What a beauty!"

Through the next days I met several participating people in the public again, and they where still impressed of what they have seen.

I think I will put up my telescope again once in a couple of monthes.
