

Galilean Nights Event ID: gn953

Number of telescopes: 6

Number of organisers: 7

Number of attendees: 150

Event photos: <http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069510494/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069510038/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069509656/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069509286/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4068752937/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4068752503/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069514094/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069513530/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069512876/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069511800/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4069511286/in/pool-galileannights>

<http://www.flickr.com/photos/vossinakis/4068755015/in/pool-galileannights>

Event Report:

Although the weather wasn't good (cloudy with openings) the telescope operators and the public observed Moon and Jupiter. We also observed Albireo. Deep sky observing was impossible due to lights nearby. Many people joined us despite the fact that the next days we had a 5 day national holiday and many were leaving town.