Event Report:

The sky was covered with clouds, so we could not watch stars through telescopes.

As a plan-B, we projected PC screen on a screen out of the door, and we talked about Galileo's work and the night sky using software "Stellarium".

The venue was the entrance of hot spring facilities for day-trippers, so only two families listen to us.

We feel pity because the venue would be visited by more than 300 people if were fine.
