Event Report:

Two events took place on two evenings: A panel session entitled "Starry Messenger" involving four national artist whose work was on exhibit in our art museum. These pieces were influenced by astronomical images from Hubble, etc. The panel session was about how science (we're an art/science museum) influences art and vice versa. Public really enjoyed a lively discussion. Second event was a star party with telecopes, including Galileoscopes purchased by the public. Weather was not perfect however.
